RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Department of Agricultural Economics, Kansas State University

Graduate Research Assistant

Aug 2021 – Present

Cooperative Agreement with USDA Economic Research Service

- Development of grain supply forecasting models using econometric (OLS, FEOLS, POISSON), ARIMA and Machine Learning (Random Forest, Extreme Gradient Boosting) techniques to predict yield, area and production at the country level.
- Evaluation of different approaches to improve the forecast using as linear and nonlinear trends with natural cubic splines, pooled panel, country-specific estimates. Model performance was validated through out-sample forecasting using accuracy measures (RMSE, MAE, MAPE and MSE). The models are estimated using production, price and climate data from 78 countries.
- Developed skills in forecasting methods, data wrangling, and manipulation of diverse geospatial datasets (raster, bricks, point, lineal, and polygon data), and spatial interpolation.

Graduate Research Assistant

May 2020 – Jul 2021

- Data analysis of Live Cattle Markets Fundamentals in the regions of KS, NE, CO, IO-MN, and TX-OK-NM using Bloomberg Terminals, LMIC, and USDA-AMS databases.
- Forecasting and analyzing live cattle prices, basis, and hedging errors.

Graduate Research Assistant

Aug 2019- Apr 2020

- Evaluation of Phone Pilot Survey to estimate the family income in rural areas of Kenya.
- Analysis and data management of surveys to get information about the family food consumption in Yemen.
- Assistant with data management, creation of codebooks for releasing data to the public.
